

Candles and rain

Tired and exhausted, the world is gone
Forever onwards forever home
Wherever I may go
Cause if I wished dark to come
I would wish for nothing though
And if I miss the hints gave me, your aim achieves me still

And I am the one who holds a candle
In the heavy pouring rain
And the flame will never fade out
Cause the light is still the same

There's only thunder when it rains
Only lightening in the storm
There's only thunder when it rains
Only lightening in the storm
And I am the one, I am the one
